APPOINTS NEW COMMITTEES

Mayor Black Revises List Placing Arnold Orme in Chairmanship of Two Important Ones.

DISPOSES OF DR. PARSONS

Is Taken From Water and Light Committee—Changes Result of New Councilman.

With the election of Arnold Orme of the city council to succeed O. C. Norris, it was necessary for Mayor Black to revise the standing committees of the council. Instead of substituting the name of Orme in place of Norris in the list of committees Mayor Black in his new list, has made a general revision and the new councilman drew the chairmanship of two important committees.

The list as prepared by Mayor Black is as follows:

Judiciary—Newhouse, Kelley, Orme.

Finance—Parsons, Kelley and Newhouse.

Police—Orme, Kelley and Parsons.

Ordinance—Moore, Orme and Parsons.

Water and Light—Orme, Kelley and Newhouse.

Streets and Alleys—Kelley, Orme, Moore.

Printing—Kelley, Parsons, Orme.

Natural Gas—Newhouse, Parsons, Orme.

Fire—Kelley, Moore and Orme.

Sewer—Moore, Parsons and Kelley.

The two most important changes are in the police committee and the committee on water and light. The police committee was formerly made up of Parsons, Kelley and Norris, with Dr. Parsons, chairman. The revised list takes the chairmanship from Dr. Parsons and places Orme at the head. Councilman Kelley was chairman of the water and light committee with Parsons and Norris completing the committee. Dr. Parsons is taken from this important committee and Orme named as chairman and Newhouse as the third member.

Mayor Black states that his committees were named for the best interests of the city and that Orme was placed at the head of the water and light committee because he thought Orme was the best man for the place. Dr. Parsons stated today that he was really glad to get off of the water and light committee as there was nothing more for the committee to do since the city has the increased water supply. Dr. Parsons would like to have seen the general installation of water meters before being taken from the committee.

The new chairman, Arnold Orme, it is understood is in favor of water meters and the committee may recommend that they be installed. The police committee of which Dr. Parsons was formerly chairman has been a source of no little trouble to the Black administration. The recommendations of the chairman always met opposition and many tilts have resulted. With the appointment of Orme as chairman, Dr. Parsons is shoved into the background.

On the minor committees, Orme takes the place of Norris on the printing committee and Newhouse succeeds Norris as chairman of the committee on natural gas, with Orme added as the third member. Orme also takes the place of Norris on the fire committee and Kelley was placed on the sewer committee in the place of Norris.

The old committees have served three years and the general shake up came as a surprise.

J. MILT STIERS GETS PLUM

Is Appointed One of Assistant Clerks in Lower House.

J. Milt Stiers, 223 East Sixth street, one of the well known workers in the Democratic ranks in this city, has been appointed one of the assistant Clerks of the lower house of the State legislature which convened yesterday in Indianapolis. It is the first plum served to local Democrats. Miss Anna Sullivan, daughter of Tom Sullivan, was offered a position as stenographer in the senate by Senator Cary Jackson of this city but did not accept it because of her duties here as a stenographer.

KNIGHTSTOWN LINE REPAIRER KILLED

Daniel Collins, Age 23, Dies Instantly When He Comes in Contact With Live Wire.

HE RECEIVES 2,300 VOLTS

Daniel Collins, twenty-three years old, was killed by electricity while at work in Knightstown Thursday. Collins met his death when he attempted to pass between two primary wires which were stretched on either side of the pole he was climbing. The wires were charged with 2,300 volts. He was about twenty feet from the ground, and death was almost instantaneous. With other workmen he was repairing wires put out of commission by the recent sleet storm. As he was climbing a pole he was warned by his fellows against a wire that was dangling from the top, but paid no heed. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collins and is survived by his parents, two sisters and a brother.

$5000 ALIMONY IS DEMANDED IN SUIT

Mrs. Anna Kirkpatrick Files Divorce Proceedings Against Jesse Kirkpatrick—Both Well Known.

ALLEGES CRUEL TREATMENT

Mrs. Anna Kirkpatrick filed suit for divorce this morning from Jesse Kirkpatrick, with a demand for $5,000 alimony. Both parties are well known and at present reside in Glenwood. Mrs. Kirkpatrick was the widow of the late Milton Ochiltree and was married in 1910 to Mr. Kirkpatrick.

The complaint is rather conspicuous because it is devoid of sensational charges. Mrs. Kirkpatrick alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and states that he failed to provide. The complaint sets forth that Mr. Kirkpatrick frequently left home to be gone two and three weeks at a time without informing her as to his whereabouts. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick lived in this city until recently when they removed to Glenwood, where Mr. Kirkpatrick owns a farm.

SISTER-IN-LAW IS DEAD.

Will Hall, a Rush county farmer residing a few miles south of Knightstown, received a telegram Wednesday announcing the death of Mrs. Lizzie Hall, wife of his brother, Thomas Hall, at Kansas City, Mo., which occurred on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Hall was a native of Rhode Island.

$40,000 SCHOOL FIRE AT MILROY

Building Which Was Completed in November, 1907. Burns Down Today, Causing $20,000 Loss.

$20,000 INSURANCE CARRIED

A combination of unfortunate coincidences were in a great measure responsible for the destruction by fire this morning of the practically new Milroy grade and high school building at a loss for approximately forty thousand dollars.

The first cost of the structure was between thirty-five and forty thousand dollars, and additional improvements have been made. The township carried twenty thousand dollars insurance on the building which will just cover the outstanding debt of nineteen thousand dollars. The township's loss is twenty thousand dollars—and in addition all of the labor and work of the trustee and advisory board in preparing for its construction.

Had this not been visiting day for the teachers of the Milroy school, it is barely possible that the fire would have been discovered in time to stop it with only slight damage resulting. It is the daily custom for the janitor, O. A. Rawlings, when school is in session, to go to the building at five o'clock in the morning to make it warm by the time the pupils arrive.

This morning was an exception and this morning the fire broke out in the laboratory on the second floor of the building. It is the supposition that some of the high school students who were doing some experiments in Physics late yesterday afternoon left a fire in the Bunsen burner which is connected to the gas pipe with a rubber hose.

The fire was discovered about six o'clock by Elbert Poole who lives across the street from the building. He chanced to glance toward the building and saw smoke and flames in one of the upstairs room. He summoned help and the fight to save the building was started.

The fire reached the building with Mr. Poole that the flames were all confined to the laboratory, and with an efficient fire equipment the building could have been saved. It was he who broke into the laboratory first. The room was then a mass of flames.

Milroy is not prepared to fight a fire of such consequence. The old hand power engine, which has not been in use for some time, was dragged out but it was some time before it was in working order. In the meantime the fire was raging worse than ever.

When the fire fighters saw they could not save the school building, they directed their attention to the nearby property to avert any greater loss. The wind swept the flames toward the home of Mrs. Eliza Hall which was in constant danger of being ignited. The heat was so intense that the window panes in the house were cracked.

It was not long before the building was in ruins. Nothing remains now but the jagged walls that held in tact and parts of the chimneys which still stand.

Nothing was saved from the building except a piano belonging to the Milroy United Presbyterian church congregation, and a few school books. The United Presbyterians had been holding church in the school auditorium pending the completion of their new church which will be dedicated on Page 4.

ARMY DESERTER IS CAPTURED

Samuel S. Hinton, Age 25, Formerly of Near Arlington, Caught by Shelbyville Police.

IN HIDING NEAR PLAINFIELD

Fugitive From Justice Since July 5, 1909—Taken to Ft. Benjamin Harrison.

Samuel S. Hinton, age 25, a former Rush county boy, was arrested for deserting from the United States army by the Shelbyville chief of police near Plainfield last night. He was to be turned over to the army officers at Ft. Benjamin Harrison today.

Hinton formerly resided in this and adjoining counties, making his home in and near Morristown and Arlington and a number of his relatives still live in the vicinity of the latter place.

He enlisted in the army on May 14, 1908, and was assigned to a position as a member of Troop K, Eighth Cavalry. He deserted on July 5, 1909, escaping from Fort Robinson, Nebraska, where he was stationed at that time.

After leaving Fort Robinson Hinton spent three years in Montana and Oregon, and during the month of November, 1912, returned to this State.

THREE COUNTIES ARE TO BE REPRESENTED

Clarksburg Plans For Tri-County Corn Show and Annual Fancy Poultry Exhibition.

$300 IN PRIZES IN LATTER

January 30 and 31 and February 1 will be three big days for Clarksburg, marking as they do the dates selected for the annual exhibition of fancy poultry and the tri-county corn show, says the Greensburg Review. Among the names which guarantee the unqualified success of the undertaking are: D. E. Freeland, president; Homer A. Russell, treasurer; and George L. Dohy, secretary. The hustlers have the three-day poultry parade in charge, while H. C. Doles is the leading spirit in the corn show which will be staged January 30 and February 1.

The fancy fowl affair is open to the world, and as the boys have posted $300 in prize money, they are expecting some keen competition in the various classes which will compete at Russell's Hall.

Rush, Franklin and Decatur counties will be president in the corn show at Dole's hardware store, the exhibitors being limited to residents of certain townships in each county.

CATHOLIC JUNIORS VICTORS.

The Catholic Juniors Basketball Team defeated the Graham School Team last night in a fast game by the score of 13 to 3. This is the first of a series of three games.

Line-up—Juniors, Doll, guard; Hackman, guard; Flodder, guard; Joyce, center; M. Nolan, forward; Cooning and Flodder forward. Graham School—Newhouse, guard; Friend, guard; Wilson, center; Conaway, forward; Oakley, forward.

Rain or snow tonight and probably Saturday.

SETTLES FOR PRICE TRIAL

Jennings County Pays Decatur County Clerk $1,868.91.

The clerk of Decatur county has received a check for $1,868.91 from Jennings county for the two trials of Zackiah T. Price, charged with the murder of his former farm hand, Fletcher Cook. The first trial, in which the jury disagreed, cost $707.50 and the second, $1,161.41. The case was venued to Decatur county from Jennings. Price is now serving a sentence in the State prison at Michigan City.

MRS. P. A. MILLER IS CALLED BY DEATH

Well Known Woman Expired After Few Hours Illness From Acute Indigestion, Caused by Diabetes.

HUSBAND AND 3 SONS SURVIVE

Mrs. Fannie A. Miller, 59 years old, wife of Pleasant A. Miller, died this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at her home, corner of Third and Julian streets. Mrs. Miller had been ill many years suffering from diabetes and this morning shortly after breakfast, suffered an attack of acute indigestion. Her death came as a great shock to her family and friends. Only yesterday Mrs. Miller was in Indianapolis and was apparently in her usual health.

Mrs. Miller was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis and was born in Orange. She was married to P. A. Miller, Oct. 24, 1872. Besides her husband she is survived by three sons, Clendas, Clyde and Thomas Miller. Mrs. Miller is also survived by two brothers, Ell Davis of Lebanon and Zachariah Davis of this city. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

NECESSARY TO CALL FATHER BY PHONE

Cincinnati Marriage License Clerk Was Skeptical About Young Lewisville Couple.

BUT THEY'RE FINALLY WEDDED

Before Miss Ruby Cochran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cochran of near Lewisville, and L. F. Symons, cashier of the Lewisville bank, could convince the Cincinnati marriage license clerk that they were not eloping and that Miss Cochran was the age she stated, they had to call Mr. Cochran on the long distance telephone.

The marriage license clerk was skeptical. He thought that it was either against the parents wishes or that the would-be bride was too young. When Mr. Cochran stated over the telephone that there was no parental objection, and that she was of legal age to be wedded, the license was issued and they were married. They will reside in Lewisville.

The funeral of Mrs. C. W. Reynolds occurred at the Lewisville M. E. church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A large crowd packed the church. The Rev. Daisy Barr preached the sermon. Rev. Hallman assisted in the service. On account of bad weather the body was placed in the vault.

ADVOCATES USE OF PRINTERSINK

Speakers at Lumber Dealers Meeting Say it is Only Way to Combat Mail Orders.

LOCAL RETAIL MEN ATTEND

Editors Are Entertained at Luncheon and Hear Talks on Advertising.

The Retail Lumber Dealers of Indiana in convention in Indianapolis yesterday declared that advertising in local newspapers is the best means that can be used to compete with and down the mail order houses in the lumber business. Several men high up in lumber business state that gradually the mail order houses are taking the business away from the local business men by advertising.

The mail order houses send catalogues to every home. The local lumber dealer does practically no advertising thus he does not let the people in his vicinity know what he has for sale nor the price that he wants for it. According to the sentiment the mail order houses do not furnish as good a quality of goods as the local merchant.

About twenty-five Indiana editors were entertained by the lumbermen at a luncheon at the Columbia club yesterday and the editors were special guests at the business sessions in the afternoon. J. D. Case and Robert L. Tompkins, two Rushville lumber dealers, attended the two days' session.

Effective advertising to offset the work being done by the mail order houses in the retail lumber business was one of the plans suggested by J. R. Goetheus, of Muncie in discussing the question of meeting competition, before the association.

Mr. Goetheus said the lumber dealers have been forced to meet the question of combatting the mail order house.

"Just as long," said he, "as we allow them to advertise in our territory and do nothing to offset it in the way of effective advertising, just so long are we going to lose business through mail order houses."

"While they are spending barrels of money educating the people to buy from them, advertising in newspapers, magazines and other periodicals, sending out catalogues, the local dealers are depending solely on home pride in a home institution to get business and doing nothing in the way of an educational campaign to convince the public that they can buy cheaper at home."

Mr. Goetheus urged the dealers to put out catalogues showing the buying public what they have for sale. He also said the daily newspaper should be used. He said the lumber dealer must prepare himself to help the man who desires to build and that he must be able to give counsel to the man with building troubles.

"It is the duty of the retailer in the small town to keep the boys on the farms," said another speaker. His future business depends on it. He must also keep the girls; in fact, this is the most important step, for if the girls stay the boys will not go for long. The retailer can hold the young by boosting his town. He should make it a live place where young persons can have a good time, a place that they will hate to leave rather than long to get away from."

"The farmer and the retailer should be more closely related. The farmer should be a member of the commercial clubs of the town and the retailer should be a member of the farmers' associations. But, Continued on Page 4.

Tuberculosis of Hip Successfully Treated

REGINALD FITCH.

The remarkable recovery of little Reginald Fitch from tuberculosis of the hip shows conclusively that Nature's Creation is just as effective in the treatment of tuberculosis of the bone as it is in cases where the lungs are affected. "To Whom It May Concern: Last October our son Reginald began suffering with his right leg. We had him examined by five specialists and doctors (had five X-ray photos) and the case was pronounced tubercular hip joint and shortening of the leg 3 1/2 inch. They prescribed Bradford frame. So, on the 25th day of October, we put him on this frame, strapped flat on his back with five-pound weight attached to his foot. In a day or two a friend came in to see him and gave us one of your pamphlets. We immediately ordered Nature's Creation. We began using it November 5th, and almost at once we could see results. We soon took him off the frame (though kept him off his feet) and ignored our doctor's instructions, but kept up our treatment of Nature's Creation. December 15th we took him to Staunton, Virginia, for X-ray and another examination. Our doctor was greatly surprised at his recovery, remarking that it was wonderful and that he never expected to see our boy that well again. The X-ray showed the joint almost entirely healed. Last of December we let him on his feet again, and for a short while he limped slightly, but now romps and plays continuously as though nothing had ever happened to him. He is now beginning his third bottle of medicine, and ere this is gone we expect him to be entirely well again. He sleeps well, eats heartily and seems his former self, all due to Nature's Creation, which we cheerfully recommend to all tubercular sufferers. Ever wishing success to Nature's Creation, we are, yours very respectfully, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Fitch, Waynesboro, Virginia, January 31, 1912. On August 7th, 1912, seven months after he wrote the above, Mr. E. K. Fitch wrote: "I am glad to report that our son is entirely well as far as we can see. We are a pleasure to always recommend Nature's Creation and hardly a day passes that I do not talk or discuss it with some one." This valuable booklet containing full information regarding the use of Nature's Creation in the treatment of tuberculosis and the conditions which lead to it, such as weak lungs, bronchitis, impure blood, run-down system and asthma, will be sent free of all charges. This booklet also contains photos and testimonials from local parties. Address M. L. Haymann, 417 State Life Building, Indianapolis, Ind.

THE PACIFIC ROADS OBEYING NEW ORDER

Laying Plans to Dissolve Old Merger.

New York, Jan. 10.—According to a plan for the reorganization of the Union Pacific system now in process of elaboration by Attorney General Wickersham and the Union Pacific managers, control of the Central Pacific with its 1,561 miles of track and a considerable additional mileage of branch lines is to pass from Southern Pacific to Union Pacific. With transfer of this control, Mr. Wickersham contends, there will be made effective the intention of congress when it aided the construction of the Pacific lines. There will be under one control a railroad running through the middle of the west from the Missouri river to the Pacific. The decision of the supreme court in the Union Pacific merger case seemed to leave it optional whether or not Southern Pacific should transfer its holdings of Central Pacific to Union Pacific. Mr. Wickersham at his conference with representatives of the Union Pacific, held that it was mandatory.

While the Union Pacific managers have not definitely coincided with Mr. Wickersham in his construction of the decision, they have begun formulation of a plan for reorganization in accordance with that construction. Perfection of the plan; it is obvious, will be beset with difficulties. The ratio of transfer of Southern Pacific stock for Central Pacific stock is one of the main difficulties.

Brakeman Fatally Crushed.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 10.—Harry Nesmyth, a Big Four brakeman, of Indianapolis, probably was fatally injured when he was crushed between two flat cars in the Big Four yards here. He was engaged in coupling cars, which came together and crushed his chest.

No Sign of Foul Play.

London, Jan. 10.—Paul Nash, the late United States consul general at Buda Pest, who was found dead at Claridge's Tuesday, died a natural death from heart failure, according to the verdict of the coroner at the inquest.

New York, Jan. 10.—The government's petition for a permanent injunction against the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' association, alleged to be a combination in restraint of trade, has been granted by the federal district court.

ACHING HEARTS BEAT HEAVILY

Not Near Enough Jobs to Go Around.

PLUNDER COMMITTEE REPORTS

Both Houses of Indiana Legislature Met Today to Hear Appointment of Members of Small Army of Clerks and Attaches of One Sort and Another Necessary For Carrying on the Business of the General Assembly.

Indianapolis, Jan. 10.—To hear the good or ill tidings carried in the reports of the respective "plunder" committees in each house, a deeply interested crowd of place seekers was gathered in the lobbies of both houses of the legislature today. In the distribution of jobs it was announced early that each Democratic member of the house was entitled to one appointee for thirty days, a like proportion to rule also in the senate appointments. As this allotment did not nearly cover the long list of anxious applicants for place at the biennial pie counter, necessarily there were many aching hearts at the conclusion of the report.

For reading clerk in the house John Wessel, jr., of Fort Wayne, who held the same position in the 1911 legislature, was named. John F. Patton of Vevay was appointed registry clerk. Other appointments of clerks follow: Foster Fudge of Crawfordsville, roll clerk; Elmer E. Talbot, Terre Haute, calendar clerk; Irvin Bowman, Noblesville, file clerk; Paul T. Sullivan, Indianapolis, clerk; Mason J. Niblack, Vincennes, minute clerk. Then there was a host of minor appointments, clerks of one sort and another, stenographers, assistant doorkeepers, pages and all the variety of "help" required to carry on the detail work of a sixty-day session of the general assembly. In the senate the appointment of committees will not be made until Monday or Tuesday, when the new lieutenant governor, William P. O'Neill of Mishawaka, who will be installed as presiding officer of the senate on Monday, contemporaneous with the inauguration of Samuel M. Ralston of Lebanon, as governor, will name his committees.

House Committees.

Speaker Cook, at the opening session of the house, announced the appointment of the house committees. These, with their respective chairmen, are as follows:

Affairs City of Indianapolis, Leyendecker; Indiana Reformatory, Masselink; State Prison, Moran; Agriculture, William Jones; Banks, Coons; Benevolent and Scientific Institutions, Cravens; Building, Loan and Savings Associations, Brauman; Cities and Towns, Wolfe; Claims, Beatty; Congressional Appointment, Dugan; Corporations, Hughes; Correction of the Journal, the speaker; County and Township Business, Hawkins; Criminal Code, Bedwell; Drains and Dikes, Franks; Education, Stahl; Elections, Crawford; Engrossed Bills, Chapman; Enrolled Bills, Bos; Federal Relations, McKennan; Fees and Salaries, Ensle; Insurance, Voris; Judiciary, Mark Storen; Labor, Keegan; Legislative Apportionment, Dunham; Manufacturing and Commerce, Moellering; Mileage and Accounts, Dunmire; Military Affairs, Justus; Mines and Mining, Combs; Ministers, Leyendecker; Natural Resources of the State, Norris; Organization of Courts, Lyday; Phraseology of Bills, Smith; Printing, Kelams; Public Morals, Roland; Public Buildings, Price; Public Expenditures, Isenbarger; Railroads, Fleming; Reformatory Institutions, Dugan; Rights and Privileges, Billman; Rivers and Waters, Kemp; Roads, Biddle; Rules, Mr. Speaker, W. W. Spencer, Storen, Sands, Ensle; Sinking Fund, Stevens; State Soldiers' Home and State Soldier and Sailors' Orphans' Home, Franklin; Soldiers' Monument, Diehl; State Medicine, Health and Vital Statistics, Genolin; Statistics and Immigration, Fitzer; Swamp Lands, Hayes; Telephone and Telegraph, Boyer; Trust Funds, Rheuff; Ways and Means, W. W. Spencer, W. W. Kelams, Bedwell, Storen, Cravens, Billman, Pierce, Coons, Franklin, Eschbach, Moellering, Sands, Duncan.

There is no question but that the powers are taking and perhaps have already taken steps to attempt to secure a settlement of the trouble.

FIRST VICTIM OF THE EDICT WAS A WOMAN

Publicly Executed for Using Opium.

Shanghai, Jan. 10.—A woman was publicly shot at Changsha by order of the governor of the province of Hunan for disobeying the prohibition of opium smoking. A great throng of people watched the infliction of capital punishment in a public place.

Under recent treaties with Great Britain and other countries China agreed to prohibit the use of the drug. On Christmas day an edict was issued prohibiting people from indulging in the habit in order to save them from a life of degradation. Notwithstanding this it was claimed that the manifesto was not being enforced in the central provinces, and a formal complaint was made to the Peking authorities by the British minister. The governor of Hunan evidently received strict orders to enforce the mandate and imposed the capital punishment in the most public manner possible in order to have a strong effect on natives who do not wish to give up the habit.

This execution was the first open attempt of the Chinese government to put the prohibitory laws into effect.

FIRM ON THE MAIN POINT

Opposing Forces Absolutely Unyielding as to Adrianople.

London, Jan. 10.—Diplomatic activity in regard to the Balkan crisis has reached a high level in London, but so far as can be learned there has been no concrete result. There is the usual conflict of statements in various reports, but none shows any probability of the resumption of a peace conference. The prediction that there would be a compromise gets little attention. The Turkish and Bulgarian delegates are alike represented to be absolutely unyielding on the main question of the cession of Adrianople and the Aegean islands.

There is no question but that the powers are taking and perhaps have already taken steps to attempt to secure a settlement of the trouble.

IT WAS EASY TO ROB THE FILES

Former Standard Oil Employee Tells About It.

HE GOT MIXED UP IN IT

When Winkfield Discovered Others Looting Files in Archbold's Office He Was Feeling "Sore" Because His Pay Had Not Been Raised, and Readily Permitted Himself to Become a Party to the Sale of the Letters.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Following the service of a subpoena on him for his appearance before the senate committee on privileges and elections, Willie W. Winkfield, for more than seven years a trusted employee of the Standard Oil company at a nominal salary, and who became implicated in the stealing of the letters which were later sold to William Randolph Hearst, told of his connection with the letters to a reporter. Winkfield declared that he got no such sum of money as has been charged, and said that he became antagonistic to the company and allowed himself to get into the "jam" because of the discourtesy with which an application for an increase in salary was met by his employers.

"I had worked for the Standard Oil company for seven and a half years when this matter came up," said Winkfield.

"I returned to my desk one night after all of the offices were dark, and I found two men rifling the files of letters. One of them was a file clerk and office man and the other an office boy and file clerk.

"When I came upon the two in the office where the copybooks were kept they had to make some kind of an explanation.

"They immediately offered to take me in on the profits they would make out of the letters if I would keep the thing quiet. This I decided to do.

"I do not believe that there was $24,000 received for the letters, for I know that I did not get one-third of that amount, as was the agreement."

THE PUBLIC TOWEL MUST GO

Railways Ordered to Banish It With the Public Cup.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Having ruled last fall against the common drinking cup as a carrier of disease on trains and in depots and other places operated by railroad companies engaged in interstate commerce, the secretary of the treasury has further amended the interstate quarantine regulations so as to bar the towel from common use. The amendment prohibits the use of any towel by more than one person before being laundered and sterilized in boiling water. Officers of the public health service and state and local health authorities were notified of the action taken.

UNCLE SAM HAS A NEW FUND

It Has Been Created by Venture in Nut Raising.

Washington, Jan. 10.—It will be news to most people that Uncle Sam has gone into the nut-raising business. It was news even to Uncle Sam, when the treasury department received a letter from the custodian of the postoffice at Elizabeth City, N. C., announcing that he had obtained the sum of $18 from the sale of pecans produced by a tree on the postoffice grounds and asking for instructions as to what to do with the money. He was informed that the money would be a welcome addition to the general fund of the treasury department.

Pittsburg's Flood Receding.

Pittsburg, Jan. 10.—The big flood is receding slowly. A stage of 31.3 feet was reached. It was the greatest January flood in history, and the third biggest flood that ever visited Pittsburg. The coming of frigid weather and the freezing of the streams in the watersheds checked what probably would have been the most disastrous flood ever experienced here. As it is the water covered seven or eight square miles of the city, closed scores of mills and caused damage that will run into millions.

TELEPHONE NUMBER, 1111.

Friday, January 10, 1913.

An Eye Opener.

Members of a committee from the Democratic house of representatives holding hearings on the glass schedule of the tariff law, which they plan to revise, have not fully recovered from the staggering blow they received yesterday when the representative of a glass workers union told them to leave the present tariff alone else they would injure the cause of the men working in this industry.

The Democratic members of the committee evidently believed this campaign gossip about the lowering of certain tariff schedules would hurt the workingmen's interests was all Republican cant and that no faith was to be placed in it. But yesterday their eyes were opened although they professed to disbelieve the statements of the union's representative.

Members of the committee attempted to show the union labor representative up in a bad light. They attempted, by innuendo and misleading questions, to induce him to admit that he was a paid representative of the glass manufacturers and was sent to the committee by them with his story in order to protect the industry. He held steadfast to his first assertion that he represented the glass workers, and they protested against lowering of the tariff. He declared foreign laborers would be importers who would work cheaper, which would result in the reduction of the standard and price of American labor.

Incidentally the labor representative said if the schedule was left alone the workmen would take care of their wages. He said manufacturer would raise the wages of his men if he were shown that he could be compelled to by a strike.

Doubling Production.

Recent experiments made by James J. Hill lead to say, that if the farmers will follow his methods, they can double the grain production of the northwest over the figures of 1912 which are very high.

All that is necessary is to put back into the soil the elements that have been taken out of it by previous crops.

There is nothing new in Mr. Hill's ideas. The farmers over in Europe, where close figuring is necessary to live in a land of penury, have known all this for generations. Over there the man who lets his land run down is regarded just the same as a man who lets his bank balance run down without making any effort to put it back.

Land is not a mine from which you can take out ore in the shape of soil fertility year after year without apparent diminution of its earning power.

The modern farmer is coming to realize this truth a great deal better than he did. But still there are lots of them who would see $1000 subtracted from the value of their soil rather than pay $10 to an agricultural college expert to find out what the land needs.

The policy of arousing community interest and advertising in the home newspaper so as to let your patrons know what you have, advocated at the convention of the Retail Lumber Dealers of Indiana meeting in Indianapolis, is a step in the right direction and will do much to offset the inroads of the mail order house. As truly said by one of the speakers, the great mail order houses did not build their buildings, gather their immense stocks and then sit down and wait for people to come to them. They advertised their wares. In order to compete with them the home merchant also has to advertise. Newspapers will be only too glad to meet a proposition like this half way. It is the thought they have been hammering on for years. It is they who stand up for the home town when all others are indifferent.

cated Sunday. Some of the church equipment in the auditorium was burned at a slight loss. Two organs belonging to the school were destroyed.

A request for one of the Rushville fire engines was sent here in case there was need for it. Mayor Black replied that he would most willingly send one down on the Big Four in case other property was threatened with destruction.

The school building was completed and ready for occupancy in November 1907, when Thomas E. Bottorff was trustee. The toilet system was put in last summer. There was some opposition to spending so much money for a school building. As soon as it was finished examiners of the State board of accounts went over Trustee's Bottorff's books and found he owed the township one cent, so well had he conducted the finances in erecting the building.

EXPIRES AFTER 4 MONTHS ILLNESS

Funeral Services of Mrs. Mary Ann Fansher, Age 73 Years, Are Held Today.

FIVE CHILDREN SURVIVE HER

The funeral services of Mrs. Mary Ann Fansher, age seventy-three years, who died at the home of her son, R. A. Fansher, near Lewisville after an illness of four months, were held at the Lewisville Methodist church this afternoon at two o'clock with the Rev. Mr. Halman, pastor of the church, in charge. He was assisted by the Rev. Mr. Todd, pastor of the Lewisville Presbyterian church. Burial was made in the Lewisville cemetery.

Mrs. Fansher was the widow of the late S. E. Fansher. She is survived by five children, W. D. Fansher of Richmond, T. J. Fansher of Centerville, the Rev. M. L. Fansher of Frazee, Minn., and Mrs. W. C. Pierson and R. A. Fansher, with whom she made her home. Fifteen grandchildren also survive. All of the children, with the exception of the Rev. Mr. Fansher, were present at her bedside when the end came.

LOCALS EXPECT HARD GAME

Will Take on Shelbyville Team Tonight.

The Rushville high school basketball team will play the Shelbyville high school five here tonight. It will be the second meeting of the two teams this season and the locals are anxious to avenge the defeat handed them at the first meeting. The Rushville team has been putting up a good game and the contest will be close even if Shelbyville wins. Shelbyville is a contender for the state championship and the game tonight will be one of the best of the season. Prof. Smelser is not making any predictions but Rushville may spring a surprise. The game will be called at 8 o'clock.

Samuel H. Murphy Files Action

Against T. H. I. & E. Co. as Result of Straughn Accident.

FRANK SANKER LOST LIFE

Murphy Alleges He Suffered Three

Broken Ribs and Severe Nervous Shock.

Samuel H. Murphy of Straughn Thursday entered suit in the Henry circuit court against the Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern Traction company for damages in the sum of $10,200, says the Newcastle Courier. The suit is the result of the disaster at Straughn on August 19, 1911, in which the automobile that Mr. Murphy was driving and in which his brother-in-law, Frank Sanker, was riding, was struck by a T. H. I. & E. traction car.

As the result of the accident Mr. Sanker, whose home was in Covington, Ky., and who was visiting at Straughn, was killed and Mr. Murphy was badly injured. He suffered three fractured ribs and numerous other injuries and in addition received a severe shock to his nervous system. It is claimed in the complaint that he was permanently injured. The automobile, which figured in the accident, was demolished.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Washington and Pike street in the town of Straughn. The machine was being driven south on Pike street and the view of the track was obscured by heavy foliage and adjacent buildings.

After the accident the wife of Frank Sanker entered suit for damages against the traction company because of the death of her husband. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff and awarded her $3,000 damages. The case has been appealed to the State supreme court.

CONNERSVILLE WON GAME

Defeated Local Independents by Score of 21 to 9.

The local Independent basketball team lost to the Connersville team last night by a score of 21 to 9. The strange floor and the low ceiling handicapped the Rushville team. The score at the end of the first half was 13 to 7 in favor of Connersville. It was the first game the locals have lost this year and the game did not show the true strength of the team as they were decidedly off form. Connersville comes here for a return game next Tuesday.

Amusements

The Ercie theater has had the picture machine overhauled and the management claims to be showing a clear bright picture. The program tonight includes "Sergeant's Boy" and "The Midnight Encounter."

The Princess will have a Lubin, "The Heavenly Voice" for the first picture tonight. Arthur Johnson is featured in this production. "The Baby's Shoe" is the title of the other, an Edison comedy.

The Palace will show a Rex drama "Far Away Fields" for the first picture tonight. The other is a Victor, "The Advent of Jane." Florence Lawrence, Owen Moore and Marion Leonard, three well known motion picture stars are shown in these two pictures.

The Portola has a musical novelty tonight introducing Walker and Burrell, who are said to be musicians of ability. Eight different musical numbers are given on as many different instruments. The first picture is a Pathe animal film "The Grotto of Fortune" and the other is a Vitagraph comedy "In the Garden Fair."

The valse was brought from Germany in a Tyrolean form, but was developed by Johann Strauss in the years 1828 to 1860 to its present style. It will be illustrated by Mlle. Genee and M. Volinin. Adeline Genee and assisting artists with a complete orchestra, will present in Indianapolis a novel entertainment January 15 in the third subscribed event of the Ona B. Talbot series at the Murat theatre.

This Danish dancer has long had in mind the idea which she is now going to carry out. Heretofore she has been unable to present the novelties she has arranged. Operas which have never been associated with the art of dancing will be adapted by Mlle. Genee to her own interpretation, and with the assistance of her own orchestra, her own scenery and company. Her new work will be an entirely different scale from what the admiration of the public the last few seasons. Mlle. Genee will dance in their entirety certain operas which are usually mutilated by dancers who are unable to illustrate the most difficult passages.

One of the most effective ballets is "Robert le Diable," with music by Meyerbeer. The song of Bertram, the "Evil Spirit," at the beginning of the scene, is the only sound from the stage during the evening. Then appear the nuns, brought to life in the ruined cloister by black art; they are promptly changed to charming damsels in gauzy array, who dance and game and drink to charm the unhappy Robert, whose love has been denied him. The leader of the band is portrayed by Mlle. Genee and her dancing with M. Volinin is very beautiful. The costumes shown in the different dances are beautiful, as well as the scenery.

M. Glaser, conductor of the orchestra, has made a place for himself by the excellence of his work.

All inquiries should be addressed to Ona B. Talbot, 916 Tume-Mansur building. Mail orders for seats with check and self-addressed envelope immediately. Prices: Boxes $15.00, Main floor $2.50, $2.00 and $1.00, Balcony $2.00 and $1.50.

BOTH STAMPS MAY BE USED IS RULING

Postmaster General Says Distinctive

Ones May be Placed on Foreign Parcels.

CAN NOT BE INSURED THOUGH

Postmaster General Mitchcock has decided, after conference with officials of the postoffice department, that the distinctive parcel post stamps might be used for the payment of postage on packages sent to foreign countries by the international parcel post. This decision was telegraphed to the postmasters of all important cities in the country.

It follows, therefore, that both the ordinary postage stamps and the distinctive parcel post stamps may be used in forwarding packages by the parcel post to foreign countries. Under the law, however, ordinary postage stamps may not be used to pay postage on packages sent by parcel post from and to points in this country.

Postmasters have been notified that packages sent to a foreign country by international parcel post can not be insured as domestic parcels are, but they may be registered as in the past.

It's Funny

How minds will differ. It would be absolutely impractical to pave the city with gold bricks, is the statement a friend of mine made to me and he gave this reason:

Hoboes from all over the country would come here and extract them as they needed them and it would keep our streets torn up almost all the time.

What method do you think could be devised to remedy this condition?

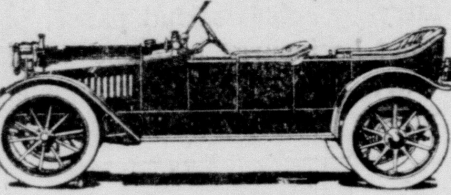

I am open for suggestions.

CHAPTER X.

The Deserted House.

"Wonderful, wonderful!" murmured Henrietta in the tones of the famous Watson.

Bartlett looked at the house and nodded gloomily. "I guess you are right. Funny they should have left without writing me about it. I have known them for years."

"I will get the blue book," said the general, with the calm satisfaction of one who at last came into his own. "We can return to the nearest village."

"What do we want a blue book to do that for?" sneered Bartlett. "I should think two motor cars could do it, provided we followed the road."

"Hold on a shake," said the Watermelon. "I will get in a window and open the door."

"We had better not," objected Henrietta. "Wouldn't that be house-breaking?"

The general agreed. "Certainly. It is warm and we can spend the night outside quite comfortably if you do not want to return to the village."

Billy shuddered and glanced appealingly at the Watermelon. A deserted house was bad enough, but outside where the owls called dismally from the woods and where bats flitted by in the dark held possibilities infinitely worse.

"I have known these people longer than I have Billy," said Bartlett. "I used to come here when I was a kid. It will be all right to break in. They are like my own folks."

The Watermelon immediately jumped to the porch, disdaining the few steps, and disappeared behind the vines which covered one end and concealed the window.

Bartlett turned reassuringly to the general. "It will be all right, Charlie. Don't worry about it. Why, I've always called Mrs. Higgins, Aunt Sally."

Visions of hot sausages, bread and milk die hard when one is hungry and the general snorted. "That's all right. I am hungry enough to break into the Bank of England if it resulted in something to eat, but what can we find in an empty house?"

"Ghosts," said Henrietta. Billy pinched her. "If you think there are ghosts in there, Henrietta, I simply won't go in."

"Certainly there are ghosts," said Henrietta. "There always are in empty houses. Where else do you find them?"

"We will return to the village," declared the general, "and get something to eat. I will get the book—"

"An empty house is better than the countryside," said Bartlett. "And we have plenty to eat in that basket Henrietta put up."

"If there is something to eat—" wavered the general.

A light gleamed a moment through the crack of the door and then the door opened and the Watermelon grinned at them in the light of a small smoky lamp he held.

"Where did you get the lamp?" asked the general as the Watermelon led the way in.

"Found it," said the Watermelon. "The place is furnished. The family is probably only away for a visit." He set the lamp on the table and from long habit wiped his dusty hand on his trouser leg. "I fell over everything in the room before I got next to the fact."

He glanced about with some pride and the others stood in a semicircle and stared around. The room was a typical country kitchen, a huge stove side by side with a large chintz-covered rocking-chair. A dresser for the crockery and a haircloth lounge took up one side. There was a center table with a red checked cloth, a few chairs and a sewing machine near the window.

Bartlett glanced around and at every unfamiliar object his heart sank lower and lower and his first sickening suspicion became a painful fact. He had never lived there. Everything was strange, the furniture, the rugs, the very shape of the room. Where were they? Whose house had they uncereemoniously broken into? A clammy chill crept down Bartlett's back and his florid face grew still redder.

None of the others was noticing him. The general was prowling around to see that the enemy could not come upon them unawares. The Watermelon had lifted the basket on to the table and the girls were preparing gaily to set forth the repast, all three rummaging in closets and drawers for plates and knives and forks.

The general returned to the table. "All serene along the Potomac," said he, thrusting his hands into his pockets and peering into the basket with renewed hope. Henrietta smiled gaily. She had pushed aside her auto veil, her cheeks were flushed with the joy of the adventure and her eyes bright.

"Father," said she, "in all our lives, we have never had an adventure before, because you persist in using those blue books."

The general laughed and helped himself to a sandwich.

Billy opened the dresser and peered gingerly in, her small nose wrinkled for any unforeseen emergency. She had taken off her hat, and her soft yellow hair, bound back by a black velvet snood, escaped around her temples in tiny waves. Her eyes, thought the Watermelon, were brighter than the lamp upon the table and her laughing, kissable mouth redder than the crimson lips of the fair creatures in the gay calendars on the wall. Her hand upon the latch of the door was so near his own, that he was tempted to put his on it, but instead slipped his into his pocket with a delicacy he did not recognize in himself. She was a girl, young and sweet and attractive, and because she was attractive, she had been flung into the maw of the street, a victim of the age's insane desire for money and more money. Each dainty curl, each flash and disappearance of her single dimple had been reckoned as so much in dollars and cents. So the Watermelon put his hand in his pocket and only watched her with poorly veiled admiration.

"Do you know what I am looking for?" she asked, glancing at him, her eyes full of mischief.

"For the family silver," said the Watermelon. "We might as well take some souvenir of our visit."

"I don't believe the family silver is silver," said she. "I am trying to find a bucket which you can take to the

HOW AN INDIANA GIRL

Got Strong and Well Again at Small Cost.

Miss Alta Abel, of West Baden, Ind., says: "I was a complete wreck, always tired, worn out and nervous. I had to spend about one-third of my time in bed and my life was not worth living. Vinol, your delicious cod liver and iron tonic was recommended, and it has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took in my life. That nervous and tired feeling is all gone. I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person."

Vinol is the most efficient strength creator for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod's livers contained in Vinol aided by the blood making and strengthening properties of tonic iron which makes it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste.

well and fill for tea. It will give you an appetite."

"We will let Alphonse go for the water," said the Watermelon, turning over the articles on the dusty, crowded shelves. "The general sees to the cars. We will give Alphonse a chance to earn his pay."

"You should do something to earn yours," said she.

"What is mine?" he asked, trying to see into her eyes.

"We must find that bucket," said she, gazing innocently upward at the higher shelves. "I love to mull around among other people's things. They are so much more interesting than your own. I wonder why."

"We can't be amused with ourselves and our things," said the Watermelon. "We are too important. Father used to say nothing else was really important but ourselves and what affected us."

Henrietta, fussing with the alcohol lamp at the table, laughed. "Why didn't your father write a book," she asked, "a philosophy? It would have been a deal more interesting than James or Spencer or Decant."

"He used to say that a man who knew life never wrote about it. It would be too painful. It wouldn't sell."

There was a heavy step on the porch and Bartlett turned quickly with sickening fear. It was Alphonse come from putting the cars away in the shed beside the barn. Bartlett wiped his brow and swallowed heavily. This was terrible, this being in another man's house unlawfully. The utterly hopeless inability to explain satisfactorily took all one's nerves away. He glanced at the other four, merrily unconscious of his ghastly discovery, their thoughts filled only with the desire to eat.

"Billy," said he sharply, "what are you doing in that closet? Come away at once."

SERIOUS ERROR IN RUSHVILLE

Rushville Citizens Will Do Well to Profit by the Following.

Many fatal cases of kidney disease have reached an incurable stage because the patient did not understand the symptoms. Even today in Rushville, there are many residents making the same error. They attribute their mysterious aches and pains to overwork, or worry, perhaps, when all the time their rheumatic pains, backache and bladder irregularities are most probably due to weak and ailing kidneys. If you are ill, if your kidneys are out of order, profit by this Rushville resident's experience.

Mrs. William Merrill, 332 W. 4th St., Rushville, Ind., says: "I suffered for quite a while from weakness in my back. I had a dull pain over my kidneys, often accompanied by headaches. The simplest of my household duties was a burden. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Johnson's Drug Store and used them. They proved their merits by entirely relieving me."

Aeroplane in Hunting.

Hunting game from an aeroplane will likely be one of the recognized field sports. In France recently an aeronaut was invited to take part in such an event, and while flying about the field he was struck in the eye by a bullet from one of the guns and painfully, though not seriously, injured. He managed to bring the machine safely to the ground and then had his wound dressed by a surgeon.

WOULD COLONIZE WEST WITH POOR

Former Idaho State Senator on Great Project.

TO DRAW FROM TENEMENTS

Teeming Millions Living in Poverty in Great Cities to Be Given Chance on Broad Acres of Untenanted Land if Plans Go Through—Is Forming Big Society for the Undertaking.

Former State Senator James N. Stacy of Idaho, who went to New York from Portland intending to make a four day stopover which has lengthened into four years, has announced that he is putting the finishing touches to the realization of his twenty-five-year-old dream looking to the organization of the American Colonization society, which seeks to colonize 700,000,000 acres of land in the west with the poor living in the congested districts of New York, Chicago and other big cities. Not only will his great scheme help men to help themselves, he said, but as soon as free lands and the great resources of the west are under development the happy homesteaders will send to the east the fruits of their labors, thereby helping to reduce the cost of living to a minimum. It isn't going to cost a city man a cent for transportation to his future western home, the ex-senator declared, and all that is needed now to launch the society and assure its success is to get sufficient funds from philanthropists to pay the railroad fares and other incidental expenses.

Mr. Stacy has found time since he has been in New York investigating conditions on the east side and working on the framework of his society to lead the Friday night meetings at the Catherine street mission. He lives in a small room at 270 West Eleventh street just about big enough to hold a tiny bed, a bureau, a table, a chair and the big hearted dreamer.

Describes Society.

"The American Colonization society has not yet been incorporated," he said to a reporter. "And neither have officers been elected yet, but things have gone so well that I believe the first shipment of colonists to fillable lands in Idaho, Minnesota and Oregon will be made in the next three or four months."

"I have watched your bread lines and have found there men who took their fathers' places in the line. I have seen the poverty and unhappiness of the tenements. Labor leaders with whom I have talked have told me that there are hundreds of thousands of unemployed in New York alone. The conditions in the congested sections are frightful. And in the west there are millions of acres of land, half the area of some states, waiting to be colonized!

"It is of course impracticable for the poor of the cities to get to the west and aid in its development unassisted, and the society will undertake to give them free transportation and take care of them until they are on their feet."

"How is this to be done? The simplest thing in the world. We will first get the railroads interested in the plan. It will be like 'casting bread on the waters' to them, for their return will be great when the lands have been taken up. Communities will grow, and an ever ceaseless stream of freight, including crops, will begin its eastward course to the cities. Then we will seek the assistance of philanthropists like Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Russell Sage and Mrs. E. H. Harriman."

Will Ask J. J. Hill's Aid.

"One of the first railroad men I want to see about this is James J. Hill. He is a friend of mine. Back in 1868, when I kept a general store at Monticello, Wright county, Minn., Jim Hill and a wheat buyer named Henry Ames of Milwaukee were stopping at a hotel just opposite my store. The mosquitoes were thick, and ventilation was bad in the hotel, so they came over to my place and asked if they couldn't sleep there. I made up beds for them on the counter, and they rested well. I know that Mr. Hill will like the society's colonization idea and will help it along all he can."

The ex-senator said headquarters of the society will be established in New York, where there are so much poverty and acute suffering, and branches will be located in Chicago and Portland, Ore.

"There is no doubt that we will get all the money we need," said Mr. Stacy in his little room, "as soon as the people understand the humanitarian motives at the bottom of the project. There's a man in Brooklyn, whose name I'm not at liberty to tell, who has promised to give us $10,000 as soon as we get the society working. Nobody can possibly make a cent out of it."

Mr. Stacy claims that when he was in the Idaho state senate in 1898-9 he put through a free homestead law. The senate then stood eleven Republicans and ten Democrats, he said, and he was the Republican leader.

IMPORTANT CLUE TO MYSTERIOUS MURDER

"Missing House" Is Found at Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 10.—William Stemper, coroner, has just found the "missing house" in the Israel Deischer murder case, resulting in the arrest of Frank Barnes and Austin Celcel, charged with the murder of Deischer, who came here from Lancaster, Ill., to arrange a home for his bride of three weeks, was found dead under the Maryland street bridge, on the morning of Dec. 18. He had been visiting his niece, Mrs. Austin Cecil.

The day before his death Deischer wrote to his wife that he had rented a house and had the furniture ready for her coming. He gave the location of the house as being in a block with a grocery store, near the home of a red-haired woman. The house is at 14
East Louisiana street and fills all particulars.

Barnes' arrest grew out of the fact that Barnes had been living in this house. His wife had left him, had rented the house to Deischer, and sold him the furniture. The coroner found the furniture stored at the home of Barnes' mother. The neighbors say Barnes removed it from the house ten days ago. The furniture tallies with the inventory given to Mrs. Deischer by her husband.

Barnes made no protest when arrested, but Cecil declared he was innocent. The coroner learned that Barnes and Cecil worked together. It is established that through Cecil, Barnes came to know Deischer. It is the contention of the coroner that Barnes and Cecil conspired to rent the house to Deischer and that they saw his $3,000 bank roll when he paid them a year's rent in advance. At night when he was on his way from the Cecil home to his new place, in Louisiana street, walking over the dark bridge, he was shot from ambush and his body thrown down the creek bank.

Hotel Waiters in New York Declare
For Violence.

New York, Jan. 10.—The hotel waiters have turned over the conduct of their strike to the Industrial Workers of the World and announce that from now on peaceable methods will be abandoned. The leaders said that a petition of the rioting at the Hotel Astor Wednesday night might be looked for every day. They are preparing to use violent means in every quarter where their demands are refused. To stir up enthusiasm for the strike a mass meeting of hotel workers will be held tonight. J. J. Eitor and Giovannitti, leaders in the Lawrence trouble, will be the principal speakers.

Schwab's Luck Is Holding.

London, Jan. 10.—Ben Harris, the New York theatrical manager who has just returned from Monte Carlo, said that one of the outstanding features at the casino there is the persistent luck of Charles M. Schwab, the president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation. Mr. Harris said: "I saw Mr.
Schwab win $7,000 in one bet, and he must have won fully $75,000 while I watched him."

New York, Jan. 10.—Lawyer John

district court.

WORKED OLD GAG ON INDIANA MAN

Frank Fox Complains Bitterly of Hot Springs Sports.

HE SAYS THEY GOT HIS MONEY

Alleging That He Entered a Game to Beat Roulette Wheel and Thereby Won $26,700 in Fifteen Minutes, Fox Declares He Was Deprived of the Use of His Craftily Acquired Gains
by Trick of Alleged Confederates.

Hot Springs, Ark., Jan. 10.—When Frank P. Fox, a wealthy hotel man of Terre Haute, Ind., caused the arrest of Arthur Slavin and Joe Aberly, employed at the Indiana club, and had warrants issued for four others of that gambling house charging them with grand larceny, one of the worst gambling scandals ever sprung in this city was made public. Fox claims that he was swindled out of $20,000 in the Indiana club.

Fox in his story of the swindle says he came to Hot Springs Friday, and it was demonstrated and explained to him by certain parties whom he names, that through playing at a certain roulette wheel which had been fixed by Ward, the dealer, he could win money. He says he won $26,700 in fifteen minutes, which was to be deposited in a local bank to be divided among five who were in the deal and which included Ward, the dealer.

Fox explains that when he won his money was refused him, the statement being made, he alleges, that the club declined to pay until he could prove that had he lost he would have been able to make good. He states he later cashed his own check for $20,000, which he had tendered when he claims he started to play the wheel, and that after he had deposited the $20,000, the amount of his check, he received from the Indiana club a due bill for $16,700 covering the amount of his check and the $26,700 he alleges he won. Continuing, Mr. Fox says:

"Upon later presenting the due bill
I was told the club did not have any money to meet the same, but would send out and get it. Ward and the rest of us retired into an adjoining apartment, where we had a bottle of wine. I was awaiting the return of the money. Ward left the room and is supposed to have played the due bill in one of the games and lost."

Fox is the man who assisted Detective Burns in "kidnapping" John J.
McNamara and speeding him out of Indianapolis. It was Fox's auto the chief of the dynamiters was placed in.
Fox says he will get his $20,000 back or spend twice that much to close gambling in Hot Springs.

May Swell the Death List.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 10.—Fifteen victims of the Big Four wreck at Stockwell remain at St. Elizabeth hospital today. It was stated that Reuben Akesson, the Connersville youth, cannot possibly recover. An operation was performed on the boy, and it was found his skull had been fractured at the base of the brain. C. E. Powers of Cincinnati remains in a critical condition, being conscious only at intervals. Theodore Ingalls of Chicago, the condition.

Congress of Mothers Assails Smoot.

New York, Jan. 10.—The executive board of the National Congress of Mothers has decided to ask the United States senate to reopen the investigation of the right of Senator Reed
Smoot of Utah to his seat in that body.
The congress of mothers, with the Woman's Christian Temperance union, was largely instrumental in bringing about the Smoot inquiry started in

Sullivan, Ind., Jan. 10.—John Meek-in, who shot Andrew Picowiz, pleaded guilty in the circuit court to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder, and was sentenced to the Indiana reformatory for two to fourteen years.
He will be held in jail pending the result of Picowiz's wounds.

Senator Reed Objected.

Washington, Jan. 10.—An effort was made in the senate by Senator Sanders of Tennessee to secure an agreement by unanimous consent for a vote
Jan. 20 on Senator Kenyon's bill regulating interstate shipments of intoxicating liquors, but an objection by Senator Reed of Missouri prevented the agreement.

Puppy Skin Saves Boy's Life.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 10.—The skin who was burned Dec. 6. The greater part of the injured area is now covered, but five more dogs will be sacrificed before the boy is well.

Two Congressmen Face Contests.

NEW COMMITTEES ARE ANNOUNCED

At Regular Meeting of Modern Woodmen Plans Are Laid For Adoption of Big Class.

MEMBERSHIP FEE IS REDUCED

The first meeting under the new officers of the local camp of Modern Woodmen at their hall last night was well attended, and much of the old time enthusiasm was manifested.

Consul Crews announced the following appointments: Chief Forester, Russell D. Price; Dance Committee, Walter A. Smith, chairman, Wilbur W. Stevens, Theodore Saunders, E. E. Oakley and J. H. Wolters; Sick Committee, John Williams, chairman, Sanford Moore, J. P. Stech, George R. Aull and J. H. Wolter; Social Committee, Clarence Price, chairman, Russel D. Price, Theodore Saunders, Will H. Liles, Orville Collier and Fred Price; By-law Committee, John Williams, Chairman, Russell D. Price, J. P. Stech, J. H. Wolter and Curtis Duke.

The By-law Committee will meet next Tuesday night, at the hall, to prepare a new set of by-laws.

Among other important business transacted was that of instructing the board of trustees to rent the hall to the Royal Neighbors for another year at the old price, and naming Feb. 7, as the date for the next class adoption. The camp has been granted a "Special Dispensation" by the head consul, whereby the membership fee has been reduced.

The members expect to organize the largest class ever adopted into the local camp.

The by-law committee will report next Thursday night and a large attendance of the membership is anticipated.
